ONE KILLED, 4 WOUNDED IN PRISON RIOT

THREE ACRES ON THE MOVE — The largest tow ever transported on the Tennessee River is pictured on Pickwick Lake, about 215 miles from its starting point, Paducah, Ky. The tow of 24 barges, loaded with grain, scrap iron and steel is en route from Paducah to Knoxville, Tenn. The 24 barges, in a formation 100 feet wide, cover an area of approximately 126,000 square feet or almost three acres. The tow is being pushed by a diesel tow boat, the Robin. (In river parlance, a tow is a formation of barges pushed, not pulled, by a tow boat). The 3,200 horsepower Robin is the most powerful boat on the Tennessee River. A big tow such as this is not unusual for the Mississippi River, but for the Tennessee it is an all-time record.

Reds Reject Latest Disarmament Plan

LONDON (AP) — Some Western diplomats today expected the Russians to walk out of the U.N. disarmament talks after a sharp Soviet rejection of latest Western proposals.

But the Western powers went ahead with plans to present their completed disarmament package to the five-nation subcommittee next week despite the Russian rebuff.

Soviet Delegate Valerian Zorin put the Moscow rejection before the subcommittee Tuesday in a statement that accused the United States, Britain, and France of preparing for a new war. Canada is the fifth member of the U.N. disarmament group.

Zorin said the Soviet Union considers the five-month-old talks deadlocked and charged the West with evading issues and lying. His objections were a reshuffle of previous Soviet criticisms of the Western proposals.

The Russian delegate turned a harsh thumbs down on the newest Western proposals for a two-year ban on nuclear weapon tests and the latest version of President Eisenhower's open skies inspection plan to guard against surprise attack. He said the Soviet Union stands by its proposals for a first-stage disarmament agreement, emphasizing that it should be preceded by a pact to immediately halt nuclear weapon tests.

Moscow's terms for a limited disarmament agreement include a pledge to renounce for all time the use of nuclear weapons, a 15 per cent cut in all defense spending, elimination of foreign military bases and a cutoff of foreign forces in East and West Europe.

Zorin declared the Disarmament subcommittee has not taken a single step forward to achieve these goals. Assailing the West on that theme he said: "First and foremost, ruling circles of the West are not interested in disarmament. . . . Facts testify that the United States, Great Britain and France are conducting preparations for a new war."

"The United States and the other Western powers want to use the subcommittee in order to mislead public opinion, to instill false illusions, to deceive the peoples. . . . On various far-fetched pretexts, (the Western powers) are evading the conclusion of an agreement."

Zorin asserted the United States had nullified the possibility of reaching agreement on a ban on nuclear weapon tests by "artificially linking its realization with other disarmament measures."

He objected particularly to making such agreement contingent on a reduction in conventional armaments and armed forces, "which is obviously directed at evading at present solution of the question of ending nuclear weapon tests. . . ."

Zorin claimed the real purpose of the open skies plan is to obtain "the complete possible information on the Soviet Union's main industrial and communication centers. He said it was part of a design for war and would lead to a deterioration of the international situation. Zorin added that the Soviets would be put in an unequal position unless they could inspect all countries in which the West has military bases."

Hunt Co. to Build $85,000 Addition

C. B. Hunt and Son will construct an $85,000 addition to its present building, K. H. Meyer, director of engineering, announced today.

General contractor for the project is the Paul Kintz Construction Co. of Alliance. Work will begin in two weeks and the completion date has been set as Jan. 1, 1958.

Meyer said the building is the third step of five in a long-range expansion program by the company. The addition will be an "L" shaped affair measuring 19 feet long, 127 feet wide and 40 feet high. The leg part of the building will measure 92 feet. It is to be constructed of structural steel, brick and block.

Meyer explained that the new building, which will be built adjacent to the firm's present site at 1900 E. Pershing St., will be used to house new and old products and machine tools, production equipment, and new products increasing present experimental facilities.

Meyer said the first and second stages of expansion were accomplished in 1956 and 1955.

Colorado State Reformatory Warden Opens Fire First
BUENA VISTA, Colo. (AP) — An inmate of the Colorado State Reformatory was shot to death and four others were wounded Tuesday night in a wild, 45-minute riot by 125 prisoners.

They were locked inside a cell block with three guards but soon 60 officers, armed and shooting, broke it up.

Warden James S. Thomas opened fire first.

"It was going really bad by the time I arrived," Thomas said later. "I saw what had to be done, and I set the example. I started firing."

In the turmoil of flying chairs, swinging fists, bunk beds and passing bullets, Evaristo Gomez, 23, was killed. Three other inmates in the thick of the fight were shot in the leg and a bullet hit another in his finger.

Two guards were beaten unconscious.

One of them, Robert Allinger, 47, threw the lock that prevented any of the youths from fleeing. He and guard Sam Montgomery, 45, were then badly beaten.

They were marching more than 200 of the camp's nearly 400 inmates into the cell block after dinner and recreation. Many were still outside the cell block when those inside suddenly grabbed chairs and began plummeting the two guards with their fists and clubs.

"There are about 18 cells on each of the three tiers on each side," Allinger recalled later. "About 30 or 40 boys actually started it all."

"They threw down mattresses from their cells and set them on fire. They were burning up anything that was loose, even the guard desk."

"I was unarmed. I closed the door when the trouble started so they couldn't get out. Then we started fighting them. I picked up a table leg and started swinging. Then I was knocked unconscious."

"But before I went down I saw Gomez hitting another officer with a club."

Allinger and Montgomery were reported in fair condition.

The cause of the riot was not determined immediately but Gov. Steve McNichols, who planned to drive here from Denver today, said he understood the prisoners "believed they were being worked too hard."

The inmates who were shot in the leg, all under 22, were identified as Gene Loux, Jerry Troxel and Richard Benjamin. Harvey Williams was shot in a finger.

Proxmire Wins Senate Seat in Election Upset
MILWAUKEE (AP) — William Proxmire, a 41-year-old liberal Democrat, scored a smashing upset victory Tuesday in Wisconsin's special election for the U.S. Senate seat left vacant by the death of Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis).

Proxmire, who became the first Democrat elected to the Senate by this state in 25 years, scored his victory over Republican three-time governor Walter J. Kohler, a staunch supporter of President Eisenhower and twice a victor over Proxmire in races for the governor's post.

The election is for the 16 months remaining of McCarthy's term. Proxmire will take office as soon as he is accredited by the State Canvass Board. That probably will be within 10 days.

The victory will give Senate Democrats 50 seats compared with 46 for the Republicans.

The stormy 10-year Senate career of McCarthy never became a potent factor in the campaign. The issues that decided the election were diverse and hard to explain because the state usually is firmly Republican in its choice of top officers.

Proxmire's victory was made more impressive by the margin he rolled up—more than 121,000 votes, with only about 30 per cent of the state's eligible voters taking part. Even so, the total vote was higher than anyone except state Democratic party officials predicted.

The total vote of nearly 800,000 is about 300,000 more than the 500,000 who turned out for the primary four weeks ago to name the nominees.

In Tuesday's balloting, Proxmire drew just over 56 per cent of the total vote cast. In the primary, the seven-man Republican field drew 69 per cent of the total cast. Proxmire defeated Rep. Clement Zablocki (D-Wis.) in the two-man Democratic primary.

Final unofficial returns from 3,357 of the state's 3,351 precincts gave Proxmire 435,085 votes to 313,631 for Kohler. Three independent candidates, including

Two Injured, Two Cited In Road Mishaps
Two persons were injured and two arrested Tuesday in two traffic mishaps which occurred on area roads.

Mrs. Lucille Martin, 91, of Youngstown, is in good condition today in that city's South Side Hospital with injuries received in an accident which took place at 11 p.m. on Rt. 46, two miles south of Austin, Ohio.

Mrs. Martin was riding in a car operated by her husband, Frank, 21, when it collided head-on with a car driven by Robert Griffith, 20, of Vienna. She sustained possible fractures of the ribs, left elbow, left hip and left thigh. Martin received slight head injuries.

Canfield patrolmen said the accident occurred when Martin, passing a truck on a curve, collided with Griffith's approaching car.

Martin was arrested for reckless operation.

Harry Baker, 24, of New Galilee, Pa., was cited for failing to obey a traffic light after his truck-trailer reportedly ran the stop light at the intersection of Rt. 7 and Rt. 14, three miles east of Columbiana, at 5:10 p.m.

Baker's rig then struck another truck trailer operated by Carl Dutch, 42, of East Palestine.

Columbiana Rotarians Hear Rev. Longworth

Minister Speaks to Club About Present Day Religion In Europe

COLUMBIANA — Lack of interest in religion is a very noticeable feature of life in Europe, Rev. W. S. Longworth of the Methodist Church, told the Rotary Club Monday evening in relating experiences on his recent trip to Europe.

He spoke chiefly of conditions in France and Germany and said the people of West Germany resent the rearming of their part of the former German empire because they fear it means war.

Mr. Longworth's party of 27 made their entire tour by plane. Its mission was to promote spiritual life and peace.

The formal induction of Raymond Mackall as a new member of the club was conducted by Mr. Longworth. Evan Roller presided for the program. It was arranged by James Sittler.

EIGHT VISITING Rotarians were W. H. Matthews, Milton Steiner, Frank Huber, Ray Pearce, Arch Bricker and Alden Gross, all of Salem, Hiram McGrath of Mansfield, former district governor and former president of the Columbiana club, and Whitney Ingraham of Lisbon. Helmut Berg, German exchange student who will be a senior in Columbiana High school, was a guest of George Seederly.

Because of the Labor Day holiday, there will be no meeting of the club next Monday evening. On Sept. 9, Dr. Carl Lincke of Carrollton, district governor of Rotary, will pay his official visit to the club.

REV. WALTER C. EYSTER preached at the Sunday morning service in the Methodist Church. He was pastor there in 1944 and 1945. Rev. Eyster was a guest Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Orr. Mr. Eyster is now supervisor of the health and welfare of residents in Methodist institutions throughout the U.S. The family is located in Evansville, Ind.

School Board Hires Two Negro Teachers

LEVITTOWN, Pa. — Two Negro teachers have been hired for schools in this southeastern Pennsylvania community of 60,000 where violent protests recently greeted the arrival of its first Negro family.

School authorities disclosed the appointments at a school board meeting Tuesday. The names of the new teachers—a man and a woman—will not be announced till school starts, in line with established practice.

One of the teachers has been assigned to the new James Buchanan Elementary School on Haines road, near the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Myers and their three children. The Myers were the first Negroes to move into this planned suburban town of 15,000 homes. For nine straight nights, crowds gathered in the vicinity of the Myers home, jeering, picketing, and on occasion, hurling stones.

The demonstrations ended after a police sergeant was struck by a rock as he guarded the Myers home.

Michael Gallagher, 86, Coal, Rail Head Dies

CLEVELAND — Private funeral services will be held Thursday for Michael Gallagher, 86, coal and railroad executive, who died Tuesday.

Gallagher, who started as a coal miner in Mount Pleasant, Ohio, rose to management of the vast coal holdings of the M. A. Hanna Co. of Cleveland in 1926. Later he headed the Pennsylvania Coal Co. and became assistant to the president of the Nickel Plate Railroad, and board chairman of the Midland Steamship Co.

Through his business connections with Sen. Marcus A. Hanna he became interested in politics and became the friend of Presidents Taft, Coolidge, Harding and Hoover. He also was a long-time friend of John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers.

Damage Suits Filed Against Truck Line

CLEVELAND — Two men have filed damage suits in Federal Court against a Warren, Ohio, truck line and an East Cleveland motorist as the result of a traffic accident Nov. 20 at routes 8 and 82 on the edge of Summit County.

The defendants are Aetna Freight Lines, Inc. of Warren, and Edgar A. Wiant of East Cleveland.

The plaintiffs are David Gaudlip and Patrick Eckenrod, both of Jerome, Pa. They were riding in an auto, and charge an Aetna truck turned into the auto's path. They said Wiant was driving a car which struck theirs from behind. Gaudlip seeks damages of $100,000 and Eckenrod $50,000.

Mother Applies Little Muscle, Leverage Power

DETROIT — A little muscle and leverage applied by mama did the trick where a policeman failed. Mrs. Laturis Robinson's 3-year-old son, Robert, got his head stuck between a car bumper and the bumper guard.

A policeman gave up the effort of trying to free Robert and departed in search of a hacksaw. While he was gone Mrs. Robinson gave one last good tug. Robert was freed without even a scratch.

Tuesday Was Day to Let Tears Along Ohio River

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — It was a day for crying along the Ohio River Tuesday.

Employees of a hardware company began shedding big tears. Warehouse superintendent R. H. Waters checked the neighborhood and found other weepers.

Patrolmen Willard Morris and Hurley Thompson, summoned to investigate, said they didn't find the cause but believed something in the air was responsible.

They added they too, had a good cry.

Blind Evangelist Starts Construction of House

CHARLOTTE, N.C. — A blind evangelist, guided by the sound of the hammer and the feel of the boards, has started construction of a three-bedroom home.

The Rev. Milton Hulsey lost his sight in 1947 through illness. At the North Carolina Preconditioning Center for the Blind, he learned, among other things, the use of tools.

Today, Hulsey, while still an Evangelist, operates a candy stand. But at night and on Saturdays he works on his home.

Occasionally he gets help from relatives but he feels that the job is his own project.

By the sound of the hammer, he explained, he can tell whether or not he's striking off center. He guides his sawing with a board cut square.

Nudist Beach Request Turned Down by Board

SAN RAFAEL, Calif. — The Marin County Board of Supervisors has eyed a request for a nudist beach on the county's shoreline and reached a decision.

Stan Solter, past president of the American Sunbathing Assn., of May's Landing, N.J., had asked the county to set aside a secluded beach where bathing suits would be optional.

"Designation of such a beach would create a parking problem for spectators as well as a patrolling problem for the sheriff," said San Anselmo supervisor William Fusselman.

And so, the board turned down the request.

Seaway to Bring Industrial Boom

O'Neill Says Entire State Will Benefit

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The St. Lawrence Seaway, predict some bring an industrial boom not only of Ohio's top trade experts, will bring an industrial boom not only to ports along Lake Erie, but to the entire state.

The experts were here for an International Day luncheon at the Ohio State Fair, Gov. C. William O'Neill; W. J. Rogers, Port of Cleveland director; and E. O. Jewell, Port of Toledo general manager, discussed the half billion dollar Seaway later in a panel discussion.

O'Neill predicted the Seaway will expand lake ports at Conneaut, Cleveland, Lorain, Ashtabula and Toledo and bring benefits to the Ohio Valley and entire state.

"We hope to tie together the lake and Ohio Valley with a network of highways," he said.

A prediction that Ohio will become "the top state in the union" was voiced by Rogers. Ohio ranks second to New York industrially.

"We are great today," Rogers said, "but with the coming of the Seaway, we are going to thrive from one end of Ohio to the other. You will see industry build up."

The experts were here for an in other countries as well. They will get benefits they little dreamed of a few years ago."

Hudson Biery, executive vice president of the Ohio Valley Improvement Assn., said the Seaway would create new centers of distribution for new commerce, but added that the project will "tend to firm present locations of the steel industry."

'Pig Iron Derby' Will Be Feature Of Canfield Fair

Unique and original among county fair contests is the Pig Iron Derby, which will be one of the features of the 111th Canfield Fair, Thursday through Tuesday.

The derby is an event to test the strength of ponies and farm horses. It originated in 1939 when Canfield Fair officials in cooperation with the Youngstown Steel and Tube Co. developed the idea of using a sled weighed down with pig iron — in plentiful supply in the Youngstown steel producing area — to test the pulling power of horses and ponies.

The idea caught on and has always attracted large crowds.

Four derbies will be held this year, the Friday and Saturday pulls open only to teams owned by members of the Northeastern Ohio Horse Pulling Association. The events are:

Ponies — two classes, 46 inches and under and 46 to 50 inches, Thursday, 11 a.m.

Light weight horses — teams weighing 3,000 pounds and over, Saturday, 9:30 a.m.

Heavyweight horses — teams weighing 3,001 pounds and over, Saturday, 9:30 a.m.

Open contest — opened to teams owned anywhere in the U.S., Labor Day, 9 a.m.

Judge for this year's derbies will be Joe Rettinger of Salem. He'll be assisted by Elmer Lynn, Canfield, who will act as linesman, and Red Griffith, Sebring, who will line up teams for the pulls.

Four teams will reign over the derby the four days they are held, as follows:

Joyce E. Griffith, Beloit, pony event, Thursday; Joyce E. Anderson, Salem, light weight pulls, Friday; Marianne Stratton, Beloit, heavy weight contests, Saturday, and Janice R. Groves, Salem, open class event, Monday, Labor Day.

Vernon E. Crouse, member of the Canfield Fair board of directors in charge of the Pig Iron Derby, said teams are allowed three pulls. The distance to be covered for horses is 27½ feet. The ponies have 16 feet to pull their pig iron loads.

Crouse said drivers aren't allowed to prod, touch or whip the horses or ponies. All of the effort is obtained with voice commands.

Watering The Soup

At the end of the first round of letters between UAW President Reuther and the presidents of General Motors, Chrysler and Ford nothing has been settled, but something has been learned.

Mr. Reuther knows there is unanimity of opinion among the competing members of the Big Three. All agree that arbitrary demands for higher wage rates without corresponding increases in productivity have caused inflation. All agree that the only way to check inflation and put back buying power into dollars would be to stabilize wage rates until productivity can catch up to them.

All agree that Mr. Reuther's proposal for cutting auto prices without wage stabilization would be foolhardy. And all agree here is a crying need for labor statesmanship which would concentrate on increasing the buying power of workers, instead of everlastingly demanding a larger number of smaller dollars.

The bargaining power of unions, point out the spokesmen for the Big Three, has been watering the soup which nourishes wage earners. This has been done at the expense of nourishment; i.e., the buying power of money. Had it not been for improved manufacturing techniques, inflation caused by ever-rising wages would be worse than it is now.

The value of wages is in buying power, not dollar signs.

Moral Force Bill

If no filibuster develops and a compromise civil rights bill acceptable to President Eisenhower is put on his desk by the time Congress adjourns, it will be a triumph of moral force in representative democracy.

Opponents of civil rights proposals have resisted the idea of legal force. The opponents of legal force have not all been Southerners, either. To the extent that civil rights has been an issue above partisan politics, there always has been nationwide support for the principle that legal force should go no further than moral force will support it in bringing civil rights into a consistent national pattern, regardless of which minority and which section of the country might be affected.

The compromise civil rights bill under consideration would bring about a continuing study and a systematic procedure for helping Negroes whose voting rights are violated. It is not unreasonable to believe that the investigating commission and the special civil rights division in the Department of Justice would be equally helpful to whites searching for a solution to the problem. It would be a pattern of gradualism like that embodied in the judicial procedure for school integration.

On Grounds Of Memory

The same kind of legal counsel that has made a travesty of the protection guaranteed to citizens in the Fifth Amendment worked out a new wrinkle in James Hoffa's long-awaited appearance before the McClellan committee investigating racketeers.

Hoffa was not advised by his counsel to use either the Fifth Amendment or the First Amendment to protect himself from the possibility of giving testimony that might hurt him. He was advised to forget, instead. He refused to testify on the grounds he could not remember.

His convenient "forgettery" was just as frustrating to the committee as Dave Beck's persistent use of the Fifth Amendment. And it proved to be just as damaging to the witness.

No one could take Hoffa's word for it that he could have forgotten so many things about Johnny Dio, who was so close to him that he had promised to look after the Dio family while its "breadwinner" was in jail. The net effect of Beck's forgetting was the same as the net effect of Beck's refusal to identify his own son on grounds that he might incriminate himself.

Hoffa hanged himself in the rope his legal counsel advised him to use.

S-Day Preparedness

In what will seem less than no time at all, the greatest mass movement in history will reach a new climax in the United States. It will be done in such a routine manner, however, that there will be unusual stress or strain, a fact that must make civilian defense authorities feel frustrated when they think about it.

Approximately half of the U.S. population between 5 and 34 will report on time and ready for action in September to predetermined points for educational duty. In the age group from 7 to 13, close to 100 per cent will be mustered.

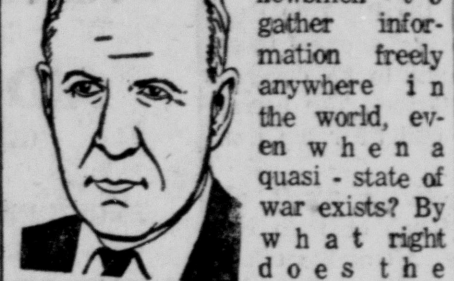

Preparedness for S-Day never stops. Although the mass movement back to classrooms reaches a climax in the autumn, education, itself, is continuous. The ceaseless dynamic drive for knowledge and training has been the distinguishing characteristic of the American people. Among the better than 50 per cent of the population between 5 to 34 years that will be enrolled in school again this year, upward of 2 per cent will be between the ages of 30 and 34. More than 4 per cent will be between the ages of 25 to 29—the post-graduate group.

Red Blackmail

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Peiping Playing Propaganda Game with Newsmen

What's the matter with the government of Red China anyway? Hasn't it read about how the American Constitution guarantees the right of American newsmen to gather information freely anywhere in the world, even when a quasi-state of war exists? By what right does the Peiping government now say it will not allow American newsmen to enter Red China unless Communist newsmen are admitted to the United States? Doesn't the Red China regime know that governments aren't supposed to put any conditions whatsoever on the "right to travel" by Americans and that the American Civil Liberties Union has said so?

But maybe the Red Chinese officials do have a sense of shrewdness, if not a sense of humor. They know now that, by continuing their organized blackmail, they may gain converts for their objective—formal diplomatic recognition of the Peiping government.

They are counting perhaps on some of the so-called "liberal" Democrats in Congress to put partisanship above everything else as the cause of Red China is openly championed.

ALREADY, for instance, some Democratic senators are declaring that Red China's demand that her newsmen be allowed to enter America should be granted.

They say this even though the State Department pointed out a week ago that, while relaxing its rule about withholding passports to American newsmen, it didn't intend to engage in any reciprocal arrangement whereby Red China's newsmen could come to the United States. For the Red Chinese journalists, the department says, are a part of the Peiping government and to admit any governmental personnel is the same thing as admitting the staff of an embassy—it all amounts to diplomatic recognition.

One of the reasons why the State Department is so strongly opposed to recognition of Red China is that it could bring on a third world war.

Extension of recognition now would force the issue as between the armies on Formosa and on the mainland, and could lead to an attempted invasion by the Chinese Nationalists out of sheer desperation. It could dishearten the Philippine government and the South Koreans, too, who have sacrificed so much in their fight against communism.

But the Peiping government is evidently counting on some highly influential Democrats in Congress to take up the case for the admission of Red Chinese newsmen, believing that these Democrats will do almost anything to embarrass their own government.

THE RED CHINESE, however, are mistaken about the Democratic party as a whole. While a handful of Democrats favor the idea of letting Communist newsmen into America and would yield to the blackmail tactics of Peiping, the majority will not.

The argument is made by some Democratic senators that Soviet newsmen have been allowed to enter the United States but it so happens that there are diplomatic relations between Washington and Moscow. So the cases are not parallel.

Also, a year ago Peiping invited 15 American newsmen to come in to Red China and did not request a reciprocal exchange.

What Red China from the beginning has been playing is a propaganda game—to endeavor to use American newsmen as the tool of its own foreign policy in order to gain diplomatic recognition from the United States and a seat in the Security Council of the United Nations.

ACTUALLY, Red China has never been too much interested in admitting American newsmen from the standpoint of getting news attention to what's going on there.

Many newsmen of Britain, Canada and other countries have been stationed for some time in Peiping and if they had been permitted to learn anything worthwhile in the way of news and had transmitted it to the outer world, the information would have been promptly reprinted in the American press.

So the controversy from the Peiping end is a phony, and the Red Chinese have been trying to add fuel to the flames of partisanship in America.

There was a time when all Americans, Democrats and Republicans, were united in the Korean War against the common enemy—Red China—but evidently the sacrifices of the 142,000 American casualties now are virtually forgotten as many so-called "liberals" here and abroad seem willing to reward the aggressor.

They would today extend to the Peiping government all the "courtesies" it demands, notwithstanding the fact that six Americans are not getting the "courtesy" of freedom but are still languishing in the jails of Red China on trumped-up charges.

THE PARTISANS on Capitol Hill will probably find a way in the end to blame it all on John Foster Dulles—who happens to be the staunchest fighter against communism in America has ever had in the office of secretary of state.

He, however, has the laugh on his critics today as they read that it isn't Mr. Dulles, but Red China's government, which has the real say as to whether there will be "freedom to gather information" in Red China.

It still is sound doctrine to "quarantine the aggressor," as President D. Roosevelt heroically proclaimed in 1937—only to be met with the sneers of those who short-sightedly insisted that "you can do business with Hitler."

Deflation Ahead?

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The steam in the inflation boiler isn't thumping as loudly. More talk is heard today of the chance that deflation may be ahead.

True, official statements will stress the threat of more inflation. Prices of many goods and services seem sure to go on rising. Most people have jobs and more money than last year—and maybe more debt too.

But on the psychological front both businessmen and stock market traders are paying more heed to the scattered signs of industrial slowdown and of cautious or reluctant buying.

And when prices of some commodities fall or price cutting breaks out on consumer goods here and there much more notice is being taken than just a few weeks back.

What does it add up to? So far, the trends are more of a possibility than of jelled fact. Few want to stick their necks out yet. But even some top government officials are now saying we may have hit the peak—in interest rates, in production facility expansion, in national income.

The long climb of the postwar business boom may have taken it to level ground—very high ground indeed but a ridge road rather than an ascending speedway.

Then the professionals either took to the sidelines or started selling in the notion, right or wrong, that the fall business pick-up would be small or nonexistent.

The bond market was in a slump while the inflation theory was rampant. Then the head of the Federal Reserve opined that interest rates might have hit their peak, might even come down a peg or two. Bonds looked better and buying rallied their prices.

The chiefs of the New York and Cleveland districts of the Federal Reserve kept their mouths closed but for two weeks signalled like bridge players that they thought an increase to the discount rate to discourage more inflation might be mistimed. When higher interest rates elsewhere drained their funds, they swung into line with the higher rates.

The Federal Reserve's top man in Washington told senators a trend is developing—toward more saving and less spending on the part of both consumers and business. More spending would feed inflationary fires. More saving will help quench them.

The outgoing undersecretary of the treasury reported signs that the tight money policy was finally working. The big business expansion boom that the money manager credits with setting off the latest inflation seems to be falling prey to tired blood.

Big city bankers joined the chorus. The First National City Bank of New York, the nation's second largest, reported businessmen currently guided in their ordering by the chance of falling prices than of rising ones.

Vanishing Farm Bloc

By RAYMOND MOLEY

Washington observers who are puzzled by the declining importance of the farm bloc in Congress might learn a lot about the cause of a visit to the lush San Joaquin Valley.

In past years the power of the congressional farm bloc was based upon millions of farm votes and the many needs and demands of the farmers who had those votes. But when the number of votes declined, so did the importance of the farm bloc.

Mechanization and larger and fewer farm units mean not only more production with fewer workers but a fundamental change in farm economics and farmer outlook.

I discussed this change with a resident of Bakersfield who has the right to the much-abused statesman.

HE IS to be distinguished from the farm politicians who in the past have so largely made up the congressional farm bloc. William B. Camp wants no public office, and, unlike most farm politicians, really owns and successfully operates plantations in the South and a ranch in this valley.

He is, incidentally, a notable farmer-businessman and, as such, is chairman of the Committee on Agriculture of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

His discussion of the changing nature of the farm economy should be of immense value in interpreting future political patterns in this country.

More than a year ago, the Eisenhower administration and its embattled Secretary of Agriculture Benson were under attack by the opposition for their alleged neglect of the farmer and there was predicted a farm "revolt" which might defeat the President in the election. At that time I made a study of the so-called farm vote.

THE FIGURES I found indicated that the voters living on farms and affected by the farm recession were so widely scattered and so few that their disaffection would have little or no effect upon the election.

Despite the appeal of candidates Stevenson and Kefauver and others, the election showed little except the loss of a handful of congressional seats and some other losses in the Midwest.

Some facts presented by Mr. Camp may well account for this change.

He points out not only that the number of people required to produce food and fiber directly had declined a great deal in the past 15 years, but that a great many of those farmers who are left earn a part of their income from some source other than by raising and selling farm products.

Camp points out that while the old "family-size" farm is passing into history with the horse and the buffalo, the number of "family-operated" farms is growing.

There has been a steady consolidation of small farms into larger ones, and this is a normal, healthy sign of our changing times. He cites some amazing statistics to prove this.

EVEN IN the past four years the number of farms has declined 10 per cent. This is at the rate of 120,000 farms a year.

Anti-Benson and anti-Eisenhower politicians would have us believe that this is a matter of tragic concern. But it merely means a change from the old "family-size" farms to "family-operated" farms.

Moreover, so far as the condition of the farmer generally is concerned, this is not a bad sign. "Farmers are not being liquidated," Camp says, "they are being elevated to a higher standard of living." New industries related to agriculture are taking in thousands of former farmers, while those who are expanding the size of their farms are making more money.

IN AN AREA like this San Joaquin Valley, the coming of larger farm units together with corporate farming has meant an increasing unionization of farm workers.

Hence, we shall see, as time goes on, more and more political action by the AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education in areas formerly regarded as wholly rural. Evidence of this is already apparent in the trends in California, Oregon, and Washington.

This is only one piece of evidence that we are moving into a new civilization and our traditional political methods and calculations must be drastically revised.

Civil Rights Bill Analysis

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—Negroes and the supporters of civil rights have won a clear-cut victory. Southern whites have suffered a definite defeat.

This is clear after an analysis of the compromise civil rights bill which is expected to be passed by Congress this week.

It's been called a bill to protect Negroes' voting rights. It goes far beyond that. It would have gone further, by letting the attorney general step into all kinds of civil rights cases.

But Southern senators were able to get that part of the bill knocked out. As it stands, the bill would let the attorney general step into voting rights cases only.

That's plenty. So is the rest of the bill. And for the first time in this century, the Southerners were unable to block civil rights legislation.

That may mean more chance for more civil rights legislation in the future.

The bill calls for a commission to investigate all kinds of civil rights violations. The commission would have no powers to act against such violations, as the attorney general could have done under the knocked-out part of the bill. But it could expose.

For example: The commission could investigate the Klu Klux Klan and the White Citizens Councils set up in the South to resist public school integration and integration in general.

The more the commission may reveal—particularly about harassment of Negroes—the more could be the pressure for more legislation. And the commission would have power to hold hearings anywhere in the South.

Because it could issue subpoenas, it could force witnesses to appear and testify.

Under the bill, the attorney general could ask a federal judge for a court order to stop a voting rights violation. Again, there would be exposure. For once a judge issues such an order, he would hold a public hearing to bring out the facts in the case.

And the bill leaves untouched the judge's traditional power to try and jail—without a jury—anyone in civil contempt of courts for disobeying his order.

Action against a person for civil contempt is intended to make him comply while there is still time for him to do so. Criminal contempt action is taken when it is too late to comply and is aimed at punishment for flouting a order.

But a court order can cover a broad field. For example: If a judge ordered a registrar of voters not to interfere with would-be Negro voter, the judge would probably make the order binding on all others too.

Thus, a whole community could be ordered not to interfere. If the registrar complies, but others don't, they could be tried by the judge without a jury for civil contempt.

If it was too late for compliance and the judge wanted to try them for criminal contempt, he could do so, provided he did not impose a sentence of more than 45 days in jail and a fine of $300.

If he wanted them to face a penalty greater than that, he would have to let them have a jury trial. If convicted by a jury, the maximum penalty for criminal contempt under the bill would be a $1,000 fine and six months in jail.

Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

A Vacation for Khrushchev

A news item says that Khrushchev and Bulganin are now taking their annual summer vacation. If so they are probably having a terrible time.

Imagine a top Soviet leader in the painful position of having to drop everything and relax. Picture Nikita "away from it all" and leaving orders "No matter what happens anywhere I am not to be disturbed."

IT IS ALMOST IMPOSSIBLE to fancy Khrushchev in a hammock with the funny papers and not swatting anything except mosquitoes. He would look unrecognizable lying on a beach asking to be buried in the sand.

And fishing must be out. He is not the fishing type. To have a rod and reel but find fish defying his plans and expectations would never do. We have tried to imagine his reactions on a fishing trip:

1. He starts out in a boat with an outboard motor which goes dead. He makes a note to see if something can't be done about a concentration camp for outboard motor manufacturers.

2. He gets the motor going, but finds the boat leaks badly. He suspects a plot by hostile interests.

3. He throws over the anchor but finds there was no rope attached. He is now definitely certain of a conspiracy.

4. He baits his hook and beings fishing. For an hour he does not get a nibble.

THIS DISTURBS him greatly. He ultimately gets a bite but the fish gets away. After this happens several times he makes a note to have the secret police investigate the type of fish in the area and fix the blame for noncooperation.

5. He hooks into a big one. It gets away at the edge of the boat. He denounces fishhook manufacturers and thinks there should be a purge.

6. A whopper strikes, and breaks his line. He decides there should be a roundup of fishing tackle producers, and swift confessions.

7. He makes repairs but finds the tide has gone out killing fishing prospects. He suspects the timetable upon which he depended may have been prepared by a reactionary or foreign agent.

8. A fisherman passing bellows, "Any luck?" This being especially irritating under such circumstances, he takes the boat's number.

9. He decides to quit fishing and just lie around the beach.

10. He finds somebody forgot to pack his Bermuda trunk and beach-loafers. He makes an effort to fix the responsibility for this.

MR. KHRUSHCHEV now decides to lie on the couch and sleep. He finds he cannot sleep and tries counting sheep.

The sheep seem to be jumping over fences according to their own free will and refuse to conform to any pattern or five-year plan.

He now feels that trying to relax is a heavy ordeal and sees his physician.

The physician finds that trying to get away from it all can be fatal to any Soviet chief.

He orders Mr. Khrushchev back to Moscow and a schedule of speeches, threats, purges, ultimatums and general disputes.

FIVE MEN WERE arrested for driving elephants by truck over the George Washington Bridge in New York. The charge was driving them without a license. The next time we take an elephant out for a ride we must remember this.

Gov. Harriman declares that, as we have contended, "a return to the cop on the beat swinging his billy" would put a big dent in juvenile lawlessness. "The kids in my day always had respect for that 'billy,'" he says. Have you noticed how all the juvenile delinquency committees, committee chairmen and others dodge all over the lot without even mentioning crime movies, upon which millions of kids are raised? From the time they are 8 and 10 years old the modern kid sees in movies and on TV screens almost every form of crime depicted, with violence the key theme and with even the heroes acting like sadistic sluggers.

Answer To Rackets

By VICTOR RIESEL

LONDON thief, Sir George can seize its books. But he can do more than that. He can seize its property, its public buildings and even its postage stamps. And he can turn the property back after he has vacuumed it.

YET FEWER Britains know Sir George than know that Charles Dickens and Karl Marx were neighbors, in a way.

You see, Sir George is the chief registrar of the Registry of Friendly Societies. As such, he has the power to act in the name of the Queen, decency and civilization, all of which are so synonymous here.

The Registry, it seems to me, is something we can use in the U.S. in this year of the shake-down 1957 and not when Congress reconvenes in 1958. Here's why:

The Registry of Friendly Societies was set up under the law of 1871. This act said in effect that all public associations, such as unions, can be exempt from taxation and business laws if they register.

Sir George can seize any union that falls into the hands of a back a Laborite candidate. But it puts the pounds in special kettles. Furthermore, this money can't be spent without approval of a majority of the membership—and no one is forced to contribute a political half-penny.

The registrar is the man to whom the rank-and-file in the Operating Engineers or some Teamsters' locals or, in fact, any American union could go if they had evidence of corruption.

In England, all they would need to do would be to call Mayfair-7001. They would get an appointment. They would be listened to.

If their evidence held up, Sir George would order some of his 10-man staff to look at the union books, or sit in on union elections, or count the union's cash.

IF THE UNION told the inquirer to go jump in the Thames, Sir George could seize the union, or any part thereof—under the authority of the Crown.

If his inquiry proved the complaints justified, he would order the situation rectified. He could direct new elections. He could direct a union to use professional auditors instead of just special committees of rank-and-file members.

He could call on Scotland Yard to help him fight criminals. Fact is that he has had to move in only one case.

A railway union dues collector stole funds over a long period of time and then killed himself. The registrar, appointed by the Crown, ordered an audit system with which no one could tamper in the future. He was obeyed.

All this, and it's voluntary, too, give in exchange for not paying taxes. Fair enough.

The evening's program included selections by Phillips Church youth; Miss Linda Carlson played an accordion solo; Dianne and Norma Jean Warrington of Leetonia, vocal duet; Rev. Gene Marvin, new minister at the church, vocal solo; and Vivian and Charmene Vincent and Janet and Dorothy Miller, vocal quartet selection.

The Phillips Church youth representation was the largest at the rally, with 62 present. The group has had the highest attendance at the monthly rallies for three consecutive months and so in September will be awarded an attendance loving cup.

The Sept. 3 meeting will be held at the Hubbard Central Christian Church.

Berra Tremendous in Yankees' 12-6 Win Over Chicago

Yogi Drives in 6 Runs in Game

Catcher Gets 4 Hits; His Homer Breaks Tie

By The Associated Press

Yogi Berra.
That's all. No fancy gimmick. No line about old pros or how the New York Yankees always win the big ones.

Just Yogi Berra.
The guy was tremendous. He drove in six runs, had four hits in five trips and stopped the non-sense with a three-run homer that cracked a 6-6 tie and hustled the Yankees to a 12-6 victory Tuesday night in the opener of that all-important three-game series with the Chicago White Sox.

It may have won the series and clinched the pennant.

The White Sox were after a sweep to stay alive. But when you spot 'em a 5-0 lead, scramble back for a tie and still lose, what's left?

While the Yankees were scrapping to stay on top in the AL, Milwaukee's Braves were lengthening their lead to 7½ games in the National with a 4-3 victory against the New York Giants. Second-place St. Louis pocketed a victory in the completion of a game suspended July 21 at Pittsburgh, but then lost the regularly scheduled game 2-1.

Third-place Brooklyn skidded eight games back, losing to the Chicago Cubs 9-4. Cincinnati rallied and beat Philadelphia 5-2 for a fourth-place tie with the Phils.

In the other AL games, Boston defeated Detroit 7-5 in 11 innings. Cleveland took fifth from Baltimore by beating the Orioles 5-4, and Kansas City plunked Washington deeper into the cellar with a 3-1 decision.

Berra, who entered the game with a .242 average, got the job done with his 20th homer on the first pitch from reliever Paul LaPalme. The veteran southpaw had come on after relief loser Bill Fischer had given up singles to Enos Slaughter and Mickey Mantle. Reliever Bob Grim won his 11th, but needed Bob Turley's help in the eighth when the Sox loaded the bases with two out. Turley fanned Minnie Miñoso.

The Yankees out-hit the Sox 16-9 with Mantle 1-for-4 and slipping to .376 in his bat battle with Boston's Ted Williams.

Williams was 2-for-4 for a .380 average, smacking his 450th career home run (32nd this year) as the Red Sox battled back from a 3-0 deficit. The thumper walked to open the decisive 11th, riding in with the winning marker on Dick Gernert's two-run single. Jim Piersall's homer had given the Sox a 5-5 tie in the eighth. Duke Maas was the loser while Ike DeLoach won it.

Don McMahon's relief pitching—a perfect two-inning job—saved Lew Burdette's 14th victory as the Braves, out-hit 11-7, rode in on home runs by Red Schoendienst, Ed Mathews and Frank Torre that scored all the runs. Al Worthington was the loser.

Bob Friend's five-hitter jolted the Cardinals. Singles by Bob Skinner and Bill Mazerowski plus a wild pitch and an infield out scored the clincher for the Bucs in the eighth off Von McDaniel, now 7-4.

Stan Musial extended his NL record for consecutive games played to 895 by getting into the lineup of the suspended game, which was resumed in the ninth. The string now officially extends from the first day of the 1952 season to last Friday, when he was sidelined by a shoulder injury. The old mark of 822 was set by Pittsburgh's Gus Suhr.

Bob Thurman, recalled Tuesday to fill in for the injured Gus Bell, rapped a two-run homer as the Redlegs scored four in the ninth at Philadelphia. The Reds have won only two of 15—and Joe Nuxhall was the winner in both.

Ernie Banks drove in five runs with his 30th home run and a double for the Cubs, who had won 10 of 14. Dick Drott won with relief for a 12-10 rookie record. Don Newcombe lost for a 10-11 mark. Veteran Early Wynn, who had lost five in a row, struck out six for an AL-leading total of 164—also his career high—for the Indians, who had a two-run homer from Bobby Avila and a two-run double by Joe Caffie.

Jack Urban three-hit the Senators while the A's slammed Camilo Pascual and two relievers for 10.

Ohio State to Begin Grid Practices Monday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Practice sessions for the Ohio State University football team begin Monday. Coach Woody Hayes announced Tuesday, Hayes said the squad will work out twice a day. The Buckeyes open at home Sept. 28 against Texas Christian University. Hayes said he may start 11 of the 22 returning lettermen against the Horned Frogs.

New Orleans—Herb Rodriguez, 149½, New Orleans, stopped Irish Ernie Smith, 155, 8.

THEY'RE HOLDING PLENTY — Boston's Ted Williams, left, and Roy Sievers, the Washington thumper, check batting grips. They also hold impressive records this season while hitting for both top averages and power.

'We're in Pretty Good Shape Now,' Casey Gloats After Win

CHICAGO (AP)—"We're in pretty good shape now," gloated Casey Stengel Tuesday night after his New York Yankees had beaten the challenging Chicago White Sox, 12-6, to open a 4½ game lead in the American League pennant race.

"We were in bad shape when we came to town," continued Stengel. "But how can I be in bad shape now? We won, didn't we?"

The Yankee victory, iced by Yogi Berra's tie-breaking three-run homer in the eighth inning, wasn't as easy as the score indicates. The Bombers jumped to a 5-0 lead only to have the Sox claw back for a 6-6 tie in the seventh. But Berra, who drove in six runs with his homer, a pair of singles and a double, broke Chicago's back with his 20th homer on the first pitch tossed by reliever Paul LaPalme.

Patterson Gets Fistic Honors

Ring Magazine Again Tabs Him Top Boxer

NEW YORK (AP)—Heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson today was named "Fighter of the Month" again by Ring Magazine. It was the first time in the two years the boxing magazine has been releasing monthly ratings that one fighter has been awarded the honor for two successive months.

The 22-year-old champion captured the July award for his 10th round TKO of Hurricane Jackson on July 29. He received the August prize for his sixth round destruction of Olympic champion Pete Rademacher at Seattle, Aug. 22. Jackson was dropped to third among the heavyweight contenders and Zora Folley of Chandler, Ariz., was promoted from third to second. Eddie Machen of Redding, Calif., retains his top contender's berth.

The welterweight 147 pound class was given the biggest shuffling of the month. Virgil Atkins of St. Louis moved from fourth to second on the strength of his impressive kayo of Sugar Hart. Gaspar Ortega of Mexico fell from third to sixth as a result of a loss to Cuban veteran Kid Gavilan, ranked ninth. Vince Martinez of Paterson, N. J., was upped from fourth to fifth and Charley (Tomstone) Smith of Los Angeles advanced from sixth to fifth.

"We're not out of it yet," said Lopez. "I said before the game that if they win one or two they won't knock us out and if we won three we wouldn't have the pennant won. It's an important series to be sure, but there's still about 30 games to go. We just have to keep winning, that's all."

Actually the Sox have 30 games left to 29 for the Yankees and any combination of 26 Yankee victories and White Sox losses would vault the New Yorkers to their eighth flag in the last nine years.

Parker Named Steeler Coach

Ex-Detroit Mentor To Keep Same Staff

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Raymond (Buddy) Parker, who tossed in the sponge as head coach of the National Football League's Detroit Lions little more than two weeks ago, has a new five-year contract as head coach of the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Parker, whose appointment was announced late Tuesday night by the Steelers, succeeds Walt Kiesling.

The ex-Detroit coach said he is asking Kiesling and all Kiesling's aides to remain on the coaching staff.

The Steelers didn't reveal Parker's salary but a source close to President Art Rooney said Rooney agreed to give Parker "in excess of $20,000 annually."

Parker said at Detroit he will go to the Olean, N.Y., training camp of the Steelers Thursday. His new club lost its only two exhibition starts to the Chicago Bears and Cleveland Browns.

"I've one thought only and that is to win," Parker said. He revealed that he talked to Rooney last week in Chicago about taking the coaching job next year, adding: "Rooney called me last night from Atlantic City and we decided I'd take the job right away. That's all there is to it."

In Olean, Kiesling said more he was happy to be relieved from the head coaching responsibility. Parker has had a fabulously successful pro coaching career in contrast to a comparatively poor record compiled by Kiesling. Off and on, Kiesling was head coach of the Steelers for 8 seasons and compiled a 25-51-4 record. In 1954-55-56 his teams won 14 and lost 32.

Parker quit the Lions in a dramatic speech at a welcoming dinner to the squad in Detroit on Aug. 12. He directed the Motor City eleven to three Western Division conference titles and two NFL championships in six seasons. He finished second twice and last once in 1955, when injuries wrecked the club.

Bob Shave Leads Amateur Golfers

By The Associated Press

Bob Shave Jr., 21, of Manakiki, posted a two-under-par 69-71-140 at Portage Country Club in Akron Tuesday to lead a dozen Ohio qualifiers into the National Amateur golf tournament at Brookline, Mass., Sept. 9-14.

Shave's performance won him medal honors for the second year in a row.

Tied for medalist honors with 147s at Cincinnati are Francis Card of Columbus and John Owens of Lexington, Ky. Card scored 72-73 for his 145 and Owens carded a 75-70.

Trailing the two medalists in a three-way tie for second at Cincinnati are Jackie Nicklaus of Columbus, the new National Jaycee champ, 75-72-147; Gene Pullari of Indianapolis, 72-75-147; and Walter E. Beckford Jr. of Cincinnati, 77-70-147. Roger McManus of Cincinnati defeated Lee Raymond of Toledo and Eugene Card of Columbus on a sudden death playoff after they tied at 148, to round out the field of six qualifiers at Cincinnati.

Behind Shave in the Akron qualifier is Richard Paige of Akron Portage with 73-69-142.

Tod Sloan, elected to the Jockeys Hall of Fame in 1956, is credited with establishing the present style of riding. It is called "monkey-on-a-stick" because the jockey crouches low over the horse's neck with the stirrups drawn up high.

NO IDLE PIPE DREAM

Landowners Might Try New Approach Towards Hunters

By The Associated Press

Landowners having their troubles with hunters—and let's face it, many of them do—might consider the novel approach of opening up the fences and welcoming the boys with open arms and free coffee.

This proposal is not calculated to stir the anti-trespass society to shouts of acclamation but maybe it would work.

At least it did in a carefully set up State of Washington project called the Operation Cooperative Hunter Experiment Control.

A committee made up of representatives of Washington's game department, the Lewis County Poggie club and the Weyerhaeuser Timber Co. sponsored the test on 70 square miles of the Vail Tree Farm near Chehalis during deer season a year ago.

Stated objectives were to lower the landowner's hazards of damage by fire, theft, vandalism and the man-hours of repairs; to reduce game and civil law violations and obtain a maximum harvest of deer.

The area was posted with 113 directional signs and special signs that asked hunters to stay out of certain areas and off specified roads. After receiving a permit from a checking station, he was given a map of the area, a cup of coffee and a book listing ground rules and hunting tips for the area.

Free cabins and firewood were available on a first-come, first-served basis to hunters who wanted to stay overnight.

And here's the committee report:

During the 21-day season, 357

hunters used the area.

There were:
No cases of hunting law violations.
No lost hunters.
No reported thefts of equipment.

No vandalism.
No fires in the area.
No firearms accidents.
No failures to comply with local regulations.

Gomes Is Favored To Beat Martinez

BOSTON (AP)—Harold Gomes of Providence, R.I., undefeated in 12 bouts over the last three years, faces a rugged test against willing Isidro Martinez of Panama tonight in a 10-round featherweight clash at the Arena.

The New England featherweight titlist rules a slight favorite in the nationally-televised (ABC, 10 p.m., EST) bout because of his wide edge in experience over the Panamanian 125-pound champion.

Both battlers are 23, but Gomes has had twice as many bouts since turning pro in 1951 than Martinez has had in five years of battling.

A clever boxer with a hefty punch in both hands, Gomes has won 40 of 43 bouts, including 21 by kayos. His only losses were in 1954 to Tommy Tibbs of Boston, current New England lightweight champion.

Martinez, who has done most of his fighting in Panama, has 18 victories and a draw in 22 bouts. He has won seven by knockouts and has been stopped only once.

Scout Gets Credit for Browns' Fine Rookies

HIRAM, Ohio (AP)—The Cleveland Browns' personnel scout, Richard F. (Dick) Gallagher, gets a good bit of the credit for the fact the club's crop of rookies is giving the veterans a hard run for their jobs.

Coach Paul Brown said Tuesday that, since Gallagher's talent hunting began three years ago, "his work has shown up in our improved drafting. I believe that we are getting better youngsters than ever before."

Gallagher was Cleveland's end coach from 1947 through 1949, became coach at Santa Clara, and rejoined the Browns after Santa Clara dropped football.

Five rookies were cut from the roster Tuesday, but there still is a good crew of them. The National League rules limit each club to 43 players on Labor Day. The Browns now are down to 42. But the roster must be cut to 35 by Sept. 15, and that will take some doing.

Those who departed Tuesday included John (The Beast) Bayuk, the Colorado fullback, whom Brown recommended to several clubs; Mike Rotunno, a linebacker from Canton, Ohio, who played at Michigan; Charley Harris, a fast back from Georgia; Tom Gul-an of Steubenville, a tackle who played at Mississippi State, and Gerald Stone, another tackle from Southern Louisiana.

Among the rookies still on hand is Frank Clarke, who learned that his work at offensive end in Saturday night's win over Pittsburgh earned him a starting assignment in Sunday's exhibition at San Francisco.

Friday, the club breaks up training camp and journeys to the West Coast for games at San Francisco and Los Angeles, after which drills will be held in League Park at Cleveland.

Williams Hits 450th Homer Against Tigers

DETROIT (AP)—Ted Williams, frisky as a colt despite his 38 years, has passed another hitting milestone in his white-hot struggle with Mickey Mantle for the American League batting title.

Williams cracked the 450th home run of his major league career Tuesday night as his Boston Red Sox nipped the Detroit Tigers 7-5 in 11 innings. So wrapped up in Williams in his duel with the New York Yankee slugger 13 years his junior that he did not realize his fifth inning smash into the upper rightfield stands of Briggs Stadium was No. 450.

"That's wonderful," said Williams when he learned of it. "I'd love to hit 495 of them."

Williams needs 45 more round-trippers to pass Lou Gehrig, who ranks fourth among baseball's all-time home run hitters.

"Right now I have to think of that batting title," said Williams. "I want it in the worst way."

Williams collected two hits in four official trips Tuesday night and gained a point to .300. Mantle was one-for-four against Chicago and slipped a point to .376. The Boston slugger said three things are responsible for his tremendous batting this year: "A full spring training period, a fast start and no injuries."

The last man to hit 400 or better—he did it in 1941 with a .406 mark—Williams believes he "could do it again this season if I had the good legs."

Williams said he doubts if he'll be able to get enough home runs to eclipse Gehrig's mark.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By R. L. LIDE

We're coming into the season when bass should begin to bite.

In fact the fishermen at Westville Lake are already making some fine catches fishing the weed beds with small weedless spoons and a frog pork attached. The few cool nights are beginning to activate the fish. Fishing should get better from here on in with the coming of cool days and nights.

Good news for the area duck hunters: we are allowed one wood duck when the season opens. I do not yet have the official order, but the advance information I have is each hunter will be allowed one wood duck in the bag limit.

LOCAL HATCHED mallards and woodies are already in the swampy area extending from the retaining wall of Lake Guilford, east to the Salem Reservoir. The swamps are loaded with duck weeds and smart weeds which is one of the ducks' preferred diets. In the past we have had two good days of hunting in this area as well as the Salem Reservoir until the ducks become more cagey.

Snow geese will be on the list of the closed season. It is seldom that snow geese visit this vicinity. Some hunters have gotten into trouble shooting whistling swan, thinking they were snow geese. As the law now stands, just let the white "geese" alone and you are not likely to get into trouble.

HUNTERS GOING after squirrels on opening day Sept. 2 in the southern zone, should make sure they have the consent of the landowner to hunt. The new experimental split season should work out fine if the hunters use good judgment.

It could be that hunters in the southern zone might resent a swarm of northern area hunters.

invading their gray squirrel territory. That is why you should play it safe and hunt where you have permission.

One advantage in hunting squirrels is that you might explore some territory and locate grouse. And if you do you will know where to hunt when the grouse season opens Oct. 15.

Even if the grouse seem to have disappeared from where you saw them during squirrel season, they are somewhere in the vicinity. Instead of being down in the woods feeding on beech nuts they might well be found along the spoil banks of an old strip mine or out in the thorn-apple thickets.

All hunters should exercise extra caution and be sure their discarded matches and cigarettes are out before they move on. According to the local forestry wardens, not one woods fire was attributed to the hunters the past season.

Hickory Smoke Victorious in Hambletonian

DU QUOIN, Ill. (AP)—The success of the Hambletonian at this little coal mining community may mean that it will be held here for some time to come.

Everyone seemed pleased with the new site at the Du Quoin fairgrounds, an elaborate plant decked in bunting and attended by a Mardi Gras atmosphere.

Pleasant most were the 25,000 fans making up the largest Hambo crowd ever, and the Hayes brothers, Gene and Don, who sponsored the shift from Goshen, N.Y., to their sprawling 1,400 acres of reclaimed strip mines.

Even Hickory Smoke, who swept the victory in Tuesday's Hambletonian, found the baked clay mile oval to his liking. His driver, John Simpson, said it was great.

The Kentucky Derby of harness racing will be held at Du Quoin next year for sure. The Hambletonian Society was to meet today to discuss extending the contract further.

The big trotting stake had been a fixture at Goshen since 190. But the Hambo society last year voted unanimously to move to Du Quoin as a show of feeling against the administration of the New York State Harness Racing Commission. There was indication at the time that the race eventually would return to Goshen.

But no one could complain of the elaborate Du Quoin setup and the thrilling divisional heats which produced the first two-way race-off for the championship in Hambo history.

In the mile showdown, Simpson took Hickory Smoke to the front at the start, led all the way and beat Hoot Song by half a length. Smoke, bought last year for $15,000 by L.B. Sheppard and A.C. Mudge, earned a total of $47,917.62 to boost his two-year winnings to $89,281.

Hoot Song, owned by Two Gaits Farm of Carmel, Ind., and driven by Ralph Baldwin, took a $26,137.88 slice of the $111,126 gross purse, second largest ever offered in the event.

Smoke and Hoot Song won both heats of their respective divisions. Smoke trotted the first mile heat in 2:01 to win by a head. He scored by ¾ of a length in the second in a blistering 2:00 1-5—only one-fifth of a second off the Hambo record set by Hoot Song in 1947.

Hoot Song, in winning by a margin of one length and 2¼ lengths, was clocked in 2:02 1-5 and 2:02.

Cards' Pilot Should Get Award, Lane Says

PITTSBURGH (AP)—General Manager Frank Lane of the St. Louis Cardinals says Fred Hutchinson should be the "manager of the year" even if the Cards don't win the pennant.

"I know it's hard sometimes to give the award to a pilot who doesn't win the pennant," Lane remarked Tuesday, "but if Milwaukee comes in first and we finish second, Hutch is the manager of the year by a mile."

Lane said he thinks Hutchinson and Manager Fred Haney of Milwaukee are the only managers in the National League who deserve the honor.

Tribe Regains Fifth Place

Indians Edge Orioles 5-4; Woodling Hurt

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians climbed back into fifth place with a 5-4 victory over Baltimore Tuesday night. But Gene Woodling was hit on the elbow by a pitched ball and may not be able to play tonight.

Woodling, the Tribe's top hitter with a .335 average, was hit by a pitch thrown by veteran Ray Moore in the second inning. He played the third and the top of the fourth, but was removed from the game for a hitter in the last of the fourth.

X-rays taken at Lakeside Hospital showed no fractures, team physician Don Kelly said. He said the elbow was swollen.

Early Wynn pitched the entire game for Cleveland, posting his 14th victory and ending a personal losing streak of five games.

He gave up eight hits, walked four and fanned six to boost his league-leading; streakout total to 164. That's also a record for Wynn.

Two of Baltimore's runs were unearned because of errors by Al Smith and Vic Wertz.

Bob Avila and Joe Caffie were the hitting sars for the Indians. Avila hit a two-run homer in the first inning, scoring Caffie, who had walked. Caffie hit two doubles and a single, driving in two runs and scoring one himself.

Tonight Ray Narleski faces Connie Johnson, and Mike Garcia is scheduled to meet young Billy O'Dell in the series finale Thursday afternoon.

Nuxall Only Reds' Hurler to Win in Slump

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—It looks like southpaw Joe Nuxhall is the only hurler who can check the slump that started for the Cincinnati Redlegs 15 games ago.

He won the Reds' two victories in that sobering descent, and went all the way each time. The Hamilton Hurricane shut out Pittsburgh on four hits in the first triumph last week. But he needed a little hitting help Tuesday night to edge Philadelphia's Phillies, 5-2, on eight hits.

Yet earlier this season, Nuxhall had his darkest hours on the mound. He said a mechanical fault in his delivery was the apparent cause. This was aggravated by a not-always-even temper. But later he said he had worked out of the old delivery trouble and his confidence was back.

The help he needed Tuesday night came from Bob Thurman, newly returned from minor league service, who stepped up in the ninth inning and whacked a three-run homer.

The big blast had been set up, when Ted Kluszewski pinch-hit a double that tied the game, 2-2, and Johnny Temple walked.

Before the ninth, the Reds had little success with starter Don Cardwell, collecting only one marker—Wally Post's 16th homer of the season in the fourth inning. Nuxhall's only damaging trouble spot came in the fourth inning when the Phils put both runs across.

Guarding Your Health

By Dr. EDWIN P. JORDAN

Mother's Milk

All of the information which I have seen indicates that the best food for a new-born infant is the mother's milk. It's a mistake for a mother not to nurse her infant unless she's physically unable.

I do not mean to imply that infants cannot be successfully bottle fed, since artificial feeding of this type has been carried out satisfactorily many times.

It is clear, however, that the breast fed usually gain more weight and are healthier than the bottle fed.

The food needs of infants are important both from the standpoint of quality and quantity. Modern infant care includes frequent weighing during the first few months. Any failure to gain weight because of insufficient intake is thus discovered quickly and remedial steps can be taken.

Quality means what kinds of food are given. The starch, fat, protein and mineral needs are excellently supplied in mother's milk. Even this, however, is frequently supplemented by giving an infant some orange juice and cod liver oil which supply important vitamins. In the artificially fed children, such additional substances are even more necessary.

Cow's milk, which forms the basis of most artificial feeding formulas, differs chemically from human milk. It contains a larger amount of protein, a smaller amount of sugar. There are some less important differences.

When artificial feedings are necessary, however, cow's milk with sugar added serves as the basis of the formula. Protein in the form of strained meats has been reported valuable for infants in preventing anemia.

Milk continues to make up a large part of the food during the first year of life. But pureed vegetables, mashed bananas, egg yolk and perhaps other foods are usually added to the diet during this period.

At no other time of life is growth so rapid as during the first year. Consequently, at no other time is it so important to maintain a satisfactory diet all the time.

The greatest gain in weight is during the first six months when the average infant doubles its birth weight. During the second half of the first year, the weight gain slows down and weaning or removal from bottle feeding is generally completed.

It seems to me that the need of an infant for a satisfactory diet is well illustrated by the following: If a grownup who weighed 150 pounds gained weight as fast as a new born infant, he would weigh 300 in six months and 450 in a year.
